Master of Science in Biopharmaceutical Marketing Program Learning Objectives

1. Students apply marketing strategies to maximize healthcare product value.
2. Students improve patient access to innovative medical treatments.
3. Students employ data-driven marketing and analytics to improve strategic insights and planning.
4. Students contribute functional expertise on interdisciplinary teams creating solutions to complex problems.
5. Students maintain high professional and ethical standards in the advancement and innovation of healthcare for all stakeholders.